Rehabilitation Network Ltd (RNL): provides vocational rehabilitation services across the UK. Our return to work solutions, are delivered through a Network of professionally qualified consultants skilled in assessment and case management services. RNL solutions are practical, proactive and can be adapted to suit customer and employee needs. We work for a variety of referrers including insurers, re-insurers, employers, employee assistance programmes and charities. RNL has worked internationally for some years and has successfully returned claimants to work alongside, Australian, American and Canadian referrers, working within a workers' compensation framework.

Client Pathway: The key stages are usually a Return to Work (RTW) or initial interview including development of the rehabilitation plan, coordination of assessments and strategies or case management, developing the GRTW plan and monitoring and review. Our comprehensive assessment format enables us to identify barriers that are preventing a return to work and make recommendations to overcome them. The visit establishes expectations with the employee and forms the basis of our ongoing relationship. The report outlines key issues and solutions, to inform all parties. We draw up practical, safe plans in collaboration with the employee, employer and any medical professionals involved. The rehabilitation plan will give you a clear idea of the costs involved in supporting the employee back to work. We co-ordinate all plan strategies (liaise with treating professionals and employers) and proactively manage the case. Including face-to-face meetings with employers to discuss and agree RTW strategies, GRTW plans and suitable accommodations.
