Our International Team

Project Team

Jenny Chapman: Jenny immigrated to Australia after completing her first degree, where she worked in Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) for 15 years. During much of that time she was employed as a VR practitioner and involved in helping people who had suffered accident, injury or disability return to their jobs or decide what 'other' work would be suitable. During the last 25 years, she has supervised Rehabilitation Counsellors, set up two Government Rehabilitation Units, established the Australian Quadriplegic Association Training Department, worked as a University Lecturer and Disability Assessor and developed training programmes (for employers, staff and people with disabilities).

On her return to the UK, Jenny set up and currently manages a network of professional consultants to help provide vocational rehabilitation services across the UK. She has been involved in a number of European projects.

David Imber: David is a member of the RNL consultancy team, and principal of VRC Ltd. He has many years experience in vocational rehabilitation. He now works mainly on research, the design and implementation of rehabilitation services and projects, and bespoke training for rehabilitation staff.

David has worked in the private, charitable and public sectors, including consultancy to the EU and overseas governments. Recent work includes a guide to good practice in disability employment projects, a review of vocational rehabilitation services for a major insurer, development of a non-government rehabilitation service, leadership of international rehabilitation training projects, and delivering training to employment office staff in Europe.

Admin Team

Livvy Adams: Livvy's career took her from work in the police force to accountancy skills training. She began by providing book keeping services to her clients, developing a wide range of financial management, project management and client relationship skills.

On qualifying as an accountant she set up her own business providing a full range of accountancy services, specializing in services to small businesses in Somerset.

Alexia Padgham: Alexia is a highly professional and self-motivated PA with 15 years of experience at CEO and Managing Director level within a FTSE 100 company with experience of processes surrounding mergers, demergers and take-overs.

She has superb organisational skills and incredible information recall talent. Thrives on a challenge and excels under pressure. Well versed in diplomacy, negotiation and communication at all levels. Ability to think globally and multi-tasking is second nature.
